1. What gets you motivated about doing well in school and why?

to be completely honest, I don't like seeing bad grades on my report card because I feel irresponsible. Also, I wouldn't want the repercussions of a bad grade. My dad would raise hell. I get real scared from a simple C+.

2. What is your favorite class this year and why?

This class actually. The reason being is because we are so active in this class and it's real fun, and easy, and I actually feel like I've learned things that will apply to my life. That is why it is my favorite class this year!

1. What gets you motivated about doing well in school and why?

College is what gets me motivated about doing well in school. This is because the better I do, the better the college I will be able to get into, and the better the college the better career I will have when I grow up to be able to support my wife and kids and buy season tickets to the Phillies  while driving a Bugatti.

2. What is your favorite class this year and why?

This is my favorite class because it is very interactive. A lot of debates. A lot of activities. A lot of group work. A lot of expressing your ideas and opinions. Also this class is a challenge so it pushes me to work, considering my other two classes are simple to help me get ready for college. Also both teachers of this class are excellent: Mr. Frank is experienced smart, and seems to know how to teach a class well. And "STECHIE" is funny, wears pink pants, and seems like a cool dude other than that he's a Boston fan.

1. What gets you motivated about doing well in school and why?

What really motivates me to do well in school is the fire I see in Mr. Chester's eyes everyday. I look at his passion to teach us, and that motivates me to be the best that I can be. But on a real note my motivation comes from my desire to have a good future, and to me good grades equals good future.

2. What is your favorite class this year and why?

My favorite class this year is my internship class. I like it because I really don't do much and I relax and catch up on my school work for other classes.
